Why Analog? Why print this list? Isn't that a bit old fashioned? No! It's not! Print the list, stick it close to the pile of stuff you're collecting. That tablet of yours is lying somewhere else all the time. The computer you use is not in the same room either and your phone is probably plugged in for some extra juice. This way you won't lose this list and you can print a new one for your next travel! Strike things through which you don't need and check things off when you packed them. Doesn't get much easier!
